In This Billion Dollar Vault Are Handled
All Liberty Bonds Sold In This District

MENTION of huge sums of money does not give us the thrill it once did before we got used to mouthing the totals of war loans and war expenses.

But when you actually stand in a little room about 12 feet wide and 20 feet deep and are told that it normally contains a round billion of dollars in Uncle Sam's best currency and securities, the old thrill is bound to take hold of you.

Above is depicted, the "billion dollar vault" in the basement of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland. Your Liberty Bonds, you who live in the Fourth Federal Reserve District, have been in that vault. And these men handled them before they went to you. The three men shown are W. A. Kneeb, auditor of the Liberty Loan Department of the bank; D. B. Clouser, custodian of securities, and C. H. Griffith, assistant auditor of the Liberty Loan Department. They are checking over bonds of the Fourth Loan which are about to be shipped out to the banks and thence distributed to you who bought them. In the trunk and on the table in the picture there are about $200,000,000 worth of bonds.

Some of the burden of distribution was lifted from the shoulders of the men in the photo in the Fourth Loan. The bonds were shipped to the banks in the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh territories from the branch banks in those cities. In the previous loans all were shipped direct from Cleveland.

In this same vault are handled all the certificates of indebtedness which are bought by banks in the interim between Liberty Bond issues and which are turned in in payment for bonds when the purchase is made.

In the Third Loan these men handled, checked and shipped two and a half million pieces and in the Fourth Loan they handled, checked and shipped four million.

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS ARMISTICE SIGNED.

President Wilson issued a formal proclamation, announcing that the armistice with Germany has been signed, as follows:

"My Fellow-Countrymen: The armistice was signed this morning. Everything for which America fought has been accomplished. It will now be our fortunate duty to assist by example, by sober, friendly counsel and by material aid in the establishment of just democracy throughout the world."

WOODROW WILSON.

Greatly Benefited by Chamberlain's Tablets.

"I am thankful for the good I have received by using Chamberlain's Tablets. About two years ago when I began taking them I was suffering a great deal from distress after eating and from headache and a tired, languid feeling due to indigestion and a torpid liver. Chamberlain's Tablets corrected these disorders in a short time, and since taking two bottles of them my health has been good," writes Mrs. M. P. Harwood, Auburn, N. Y.

According to the New York Times' military expert, Marshal Foch is making the American forces the bulk of his plan for Germany's defeat. It is seen that by cutting the Metz railroad the Germans will be cut off from their food stores and base of supplies, making their escape from Sedan impossible.

A GOOD TIME IS COMING

With the war over and the "flu" on the wane, it looks as if a good time is coming and that we will have more than ever to be thankful for the coming Thanksgiving.

SATURDAY SUN RISES ON MONARCH; SETS ON SHATTERED IDOL

Saturday morning he was: Wilhelm II, German emperor and king of Prussia. Sole arbiter over the fate of seventy million men, women and children. Commander-in-chief of the German army and navy, and as such supreme war lord. Overlord of four kingdoms, six grand duchies, five duchies, seven principalities, three "free towns" and one "Reichsland," Alsace-Lorraine. Virtual owner of 108,780 square miles, with a total frontier length of 4,570 miles. Also owner of dependencies of various parts of the globe aggregating 1,027,820 square miles and twelve million natives. Saturday night, and ever after, he is: Herr Wilhelm Hohenzollern—by grace of his people—Louisville Herald.

YOUNG TURKEYS WILL NOT BE MARKETING

Turkeys sold for Thanksgiving will be larger this year than in previous years under regulations announced by the Food Administrator designed to prevent younger and lighter birds being marketed. Licensed poultry dealers are requested by the Food Administration not to buy turkeys of less than eight pounds weight nor toms weighing less than twelve pounds before December 7. To conserve cold storage space needed for army food supplies dealers are requested to cease the purchasing of turkeys intended for Thanksgiving consumption after November 15, unless for points west of Pittsburgh and Buffalo.

Sam Walls, who has recovered from the flu is at home now.

George Young and Lawrence Baugh made a business trip to Danville last week.

Mr. Dave Burton and Mr. Jake Young are having repairs made on their dwellings.

Mr. and Mrs. Manfred Chevrolet attended the funeral of Mrs. Lillie Chevrolet at Kings Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burton, of Detroit, have come to the country on account of their baby's health.

The good rains are certainly appreciated around here as so many people had to carry or haul water for everything.

Mr. J. M. Bastin received a telegram from Shelbyville, Ind., that his son, Sam, also grandson, were very low with flu.

Mrs. H. Hatfield is at her son, Clarence Hatfield's, near New Salem, helping to nurse the whole family through the influenza.

The influenza, of course, is the principle talk of the day, so the most of this letter may be about people who have been felled by it.

Mrs. Rube Milton received a telegram from Burnside that her daughter, Mrs. Laura Nevell, was at the point of death. Mrs. Milton left Friday to be with her.

Among the sick folks who may have the flu at the present are Mrs. Josie Huddleston, Willie and Deeward and George Young, Bobbie Kincaid and Mr. Joe Ernst's family, Lizzie Warfield had it.

Uncle Sam can depend on this part of the country furnishing boys for war since our last letter the following fathers are rejoicing over the arrival of new sons, namely: J. M. Warfield, H. O. Young, Logan Carrier and Green Carrier.

The preachers as well as the teachers are getting a vacation, so Rev. E. E. Young, after getting moved to his new appointment at Yanketown, Ind., brought his family and stayed a week with his parents here, then went on to Vincent, Owsley county, to visit Mrs. Young's parents.

Miss Fannie Young, who teaches the Buena Vista school in Harrison county; Miss Serene, who teaches the primary department at South fork, and Miss Lucile, who had just begun teaching at Greasy Ridge, are all at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Young. Mr. Willie Hall, the teacher here, is with his parents near Mt. Olive, Casey county.

Dewey Lewis, who has been at work at Detroit for some time started home to visit his folks a few days before being called to service by Uncle Sam, as he had recently volunteered; but he only got as far as Mr. C. M. Young's, where he stopped to see his sister, Mrs. H. P. Young, and he got down with the flu and is there yet, but is getting better. Mrs. H. P. Young is the only one that has taken it from him so far. She is real sick at this writing.

This neighborhood has had only one death from the flu, or rather pneumonia, following it. It being that of Mr. J. H. Huddleston, the son-in-law of Mr. Jim Skidmore (instead of that man or a Mr. Kittrell either, as the I. J. was informed.) Mr. Huddleston was married to Miss Josephine Skidmore nearly a year ago and has been making his home with Mr. Skidmore since then. He worked in the oil wells here, also at Irvine. He had been married before and his children and other relatives live at Monticello. His daughter and two brothers attended the burying here. It was said indeed to see only the family in the funeral procession.

Mrs. Mittie Mack and son Billy, of Big Springs, Neb., were the guests of her brother, C. M. Young, for the first time in 16 years. On account of the flu scare coming immediately after she got here, she did not get to see the folks she had planned to. She was accompanied by her sisters-in-law, Mrs. E. E. and Mrs. H. S. Young. Mrs. E. E. Young, of Kenesaw, only spent one day in Highland. She visited her sisters at Maywood and Stanford, but the main object of her visit was to see her son, Joe P. Young, who is at Camp Taylor. Mrs. H. S. Young and girls, of Holstein, went from here to Science Hill, to visit her father, the Rev. John Godbey. Mr. H. S. Young, who came after his family, spent only one night with his brother here, as he was getting scared about the flu. They all went back by Louisville to see their sister, Mrs. Serena Light.

Sleep and Rest

One of the most common causes of insomnia and restlessness is indigestion. Take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and see if you do not rest better and sleep better. They cost only a quarter.

DOINGS THE COUNTRY OVER

Albert E. Smith, of Adair, was killed in action in France.

A Columbus, O., man killed his wife while celebrating peace.

Court day was called off at Carlisle yesterday on account of the "flu."

Thomas D. Jones, former sheriff of Montgomery county, is dead of influenza.

Huston Graves, a prominent citizen of the Nevada section of Mercer, is dead.

Judge W. V. Gregory, of Mayfield, will succeed M. M. Logan as head of the State Tax Commission.

Prof. A. B. Nelson, for years a member of Centre College faculty, is dead in Danville at an advanced age.

Oklahoma has come into line with many other States in the suppression of the German language in public places.

In a fight between Lanar Monarch and his uncle, Ed Monarch, near Owensboro, the former killed the latter with a shovel.

H. G. Mullips, age 74, a highly respected citizen of Rockcastle county and Civil War veteran, is dead in the Mullins section.

John Steele, 73, one of the wealthiest residents of Jessamine county, died at his country home. He had been ill for three months.

The board of health of Washington county has removed the ban on public gatherings, the influenza situation having so greatly improved.

Pinned under an up-turned automobile, the body of W. T. Bratcher was found alongside a road near Owensboro. He had started to Louisville.

Val Gorham, San Francisco street sweeper, left an estate of $20,000 it developed when a nephew asked permission of the Superior Court to invest $10,000 of the money.

It is possible that nearly 100 per cent change in text books used in the schools of Kentucky may be made by the text book commission soon to be appointed by Gov. Stanley.

Health Commissioner Copeland, of New York City, estimates that there are about 21,000 children in the city who have been made full or half orphans by Spanish influenza.

Many of the cities declared a half holiday Monday that the winning of the war might be celebrated. In Louisville the saloons were ordered closed that John Barleycorn might be barred from the joyfest.

Russians facing starvation in Eastern Russia are choking the roads leading to Siberia in their search for food and peace. Russians are awaiting word from President Wilson, fearing that the Allies have abandoned them to the Bolsheviks.

President Wilson has asked Food Administrator Hoover to represent the United States in relief work to be carried on in war-devastated countries. Mr. Hoover will be aided by Chairman Hurley, of the Shipping Board.

Plans are being perfected by County Superintendent of Schools B. F. Edwards, of Madison county, whereby all soldiers who may desire to do so upon their return home may have the privilege of attending the public schools free of charge.

The meeting of the Kentucky Baptist General Association, which was to have been held this week in Campbellsville, Ky., has been postponed because of conditions brought about by the influenza epidemic. The meeting will be held at the appointed place December 2 to 5, with Baptist ministers and laymen from all parts of the State in attendance.

CHANGES MIND ABOUT GOING AWAY

"Five years ago doctors told me I would have to move my wife to another climate, as she suffered so with stomach and liver trouble and bloating. Also, that she would have to have an operation for gall stones. Our mail carrier told me of May's Wonderful Remedy and, on his advice, she has taken it and is now as well as ever in her life." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince a money refunded.—The Lincoln Pharmacy; The Penny Drug Store.

"To hell with the Hapsburgs and Hohenzollerns," says Hon. Henry Watterson, and we all join in a glorious amen.

About Croup

If your children are subject to croup, or if you have reason to fear their being attacked by that disease, you should procure a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and study the directions for use, so that in case of an attack you will know exactly what course to pursue. This is a favorite and very successful remedy for croup, and it is important that you observe the directions carefully.

MRS. LOUISE TATE DEAD.

Mrs. Louise Tate, relict of Mr. W. P. Tate, died in a Louisville sanitarium Friday evening and the remains were brought to the home of her son, Mr. C. E. Tate, in this city on the noon train Saturday. Sunday at 2:30 P. M. they were taken to Buffalo Springs Cemetery and laid to rest by the side of her husband, who preceded her to the grave some 12 years. Dr. H. J. Brazelton made appropriate remarks at the grave. Deceased was Miss Louise Rose, was born May 26, 1836, and was united in marriage to Mr. W. P. Tate in 1861. There were born to them two children, Mr. Tate, above mentioned, and Madame De Choiseul, of Southern France. Mr. and Mrs. Tate moved from Casey county to Stanford in 1883, where they had lived continuously up to death. Mrs. Tate also leaves a sister, Mrs. Prewitt, of Louisville, and a brother, John Rose, of Boulder, Col. Early in life Mrs. Tate joined the Christian church and for more than a half century she was a valiant worker in her Master's vineyard. She was a most excellent woman and to know her was to admire her. She was greatly beloved here and when infirmities began to envelop her system there was almost as much sorrow expressed by her friends as when it was made known that death had claimed her. A large number of friends attended her burial and flowers brought by loving friends hid the mound that marks her resting place. Unbounded sympathy goes out to the family and friends whose loss has been irreparable.

AGED CITIZEN DIES.

Mr. Jesse Huston, one of the oldest men in the county, and a splendid gentleman, died at his home near Hustonville at 3 o'clock Saturday morning of paralysis. He was stricken Thursday and continued to grow worse until the end came. He was 87 years old and the greater part of his honorable life was spent in this county. His widow survives, as also do two sons, George Huston, of Casey, and William Huston, of Hustonville. The burial occurred in the Hustonville Cemetery Sunday morning in the presence of a large number of the eleven old gentleman's friends.

ANNUAL MEETING RED CROSS

Please take notice that the Annual Meeting of the Lincoln County Chapter of the American National Red Cross will be held on Wednesday, November 20, 1918, at 2:30 o'clock at the Court House for the election of an Executive Committee, consideration of and action upon reports, and transaction of such other business as may properly come before the Chapter. Each member of the Chapter is earnestly urged to be present. Esther W. Burch, Secretary.

SIX OF FAMILY DOWN

Six members of the Wall family of Rowland are at the emergency hospital and all are getting along as well as could be expected. The ladies in charge are untiring in their efforts for the patients. The housekeepers of the town are showing their interest and willingness to do their part by the way they respond to the request for meals to be sent for the patients.

LIKE OLD TIMES

The joy that now fills the hearts of parents to know that their loved ones may soon be with them again will more than equal that of the ending of the Civil War, when we are told they used to sing:

The boys are coming home again,
The war will soon be o'er,
Oh, won't it be a happy time
When we meet to part no more.

THE HUNTING LAW.

Game Warden Sam J. Embry remarked to this paper yesterday that there are those who evidently think the law regarding hunting has been changed as he has found several over on their neighbor's premises without a hunting license. This is strictly against the law. Every person must have a hunter's license to hunt on other than their own premises.

GET CARTONS AT P. O.

The cartons for the overseas Christmas packages are at the post office instead of the War Relief room. Do not forget to bring your label when you come for cartons. Remember all packages must be returned for inspection and mailed by Nov. 20th.

SELL ALFRED BAUGH FARM.

Hiatt & Burnside have sold to Tol Pruitt, of Hackley, Garrard county, the Alfred Baugh farm of 35 acres, near Highland, for $2,400.

Seventy-five per cent of the wealth of the country is in the hands of families receiving incomes of $9,500 or less.

THANK GOD THE WAR IS OVER.

Deserted by all of her allies and beaten to a frazzle, Germany had to accept the drastic terms laid down to her and unconditionally surrender Sunday night when the cruel, bitter war waged by the kaiser against the rest of mankind to accomplish his ambition to conquer the world came to a victorious close after lasting four years and four months. But for the participation of the United States it might have gone on indefinitely or have been won by the Beast of Berlin. Murdering our people on land and sea, and invading our rights everywhere, there was no way of escape for us except to participate and win what the allies could not have easily accomplished without us. Thus the land of the free and the home of the brave, appreciating the benefits of freedom and knowing the horrors that must be experienced by those who are subject to the will and caprices of one man, responsible to none but himself, has opened the way to universal liberty and freedom and made the world safe for democracy and therefore more fit to live in. It is a grand and glorious achievement and the whole universe will join in praise to this country and thanksgiving to God who made us the instrument of such great and lasting good.

Many as are the words of the English language, they are impotent to express the wonderful accomplishments under the administration of President Wilson, the greatest man that the world has ever known. After trying in every way to keep us out of war, he went into it to win, when it became inevitable, and from a peaceful and prosperous nation converted it into a war machine that was invincible. Nothing in the history of the world furnishes a counter part to the prompt change from peace to war with the raising of an army of millions of fighters and the making of every kind of munition, and the rapidity in which it was done must forever be a monument to the brain and energy of the president and his noble army of assistants. There were as usual civilizers and critics, but they have been forced to cover and to admit that nothing like it was ever accomplished before and to praise the directing hand that has brought us safely and victoriously out of horrible war to enjoy blessings and the benefits of peace forever, let us hope.

Our joy over the result makes us almost too full for utterance and we think nothing more appropriate now than the grand old doxology:

Praise God from Whom all blessings flow,
Praise Him all creatures here below,
Praise Him above ye heavenly host,
Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

COUNTY COURT DAY.

A rather small crowd attended court Monday, due no doubt to the fact that there is so much sickness in the country. There were about 500 cattle on the market, the greater portion of which changed hands. Prices ranged from 7c for common stuff to 10c for a bunch of superior 600-pound yearlings. The demand for all grades was fairly good. Butcher stuff brought from 7c to 7 1/2c. There were a lot of mules on the market and many sold, pricing ranging all the way from $125 for aged mules and $50 to $90 for mule colts. The horse market was quiet, only a few selling at any price.

F. REID SALE FRIDAY.

As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, Mr. F. Reid, who postponed his sale on account of bad weather some two weeks ago, has decided to hold it next Friday, rain or shine. He will dispose of some splendid horses, cattle, a lot of feed, etc. It will be one of the biggest sales held in this section in a long time and a great crowd will likely attend. The War Mothers of this city will furnish the dinner, which means that it will be a good one.

CENTRE DEFEATS GREAT LAKES

In a great game of foot ball at Danville Saturday afternoon Centre College defeated Great Lakes 23 to 0. The game was much closer than the score indicates. A large crowd witnessed it. The line-up plunging of McMillan and the drop kick by Roberts from the 50-yard line were features of the game.

DRAFT CALLS ARE CANCELLED

By order of President Wilson, Provost Marshal General Crowder directed the cancellation of all outstanding draft calls, stopping the movement during the next five days of 252,000 men and setting aside all November calls for over 300,000 men.

CONSIDERABLE CELEBRATION

Patriotic enthusiasts did considerable celebrating here last night. Instead of the world war being over, it looked to most of us as if it had just begun.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

E. C. Walton and J. H. Wright

Entered at the postoffice at Stanford, Ky., as second class mail matter.

The report the night of the election that Champ Clark had gone down in the general wreck fortunately for him proved untrue. He is returned to congress by a substantial majority but will be forced to abdicate the speakership. Champ is a fine old fellow, personally, but he is given to making inexcusable remarks and regrettable mistakes. For instance he opposed the draft law and said a conscript was little better than a convict, when the draft was the only way to raise the necessary army in large numbers and quickly. We have often thought that the hand of God was evident when Woodrow Wilson was nominated for president over Kentucky's choice, according to convention instructions, the Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri. In fact we do not believe that there is a man in the United States that could have accomplished what President Wilson has. When Bryan was in the flush of his popularity, we heard an enthusiastic but free silverite say that he was the greatest man since Christ. We took issue with him but if he was to say the same of Woodrow Wilson we would be glad to let it go at that. No other man in the history of the world ever measured near him.

It is indeed unfortunate that the president will have to deal with a hostile congress after March 4 next. Both bodies will have Republican majorities and he organized with committee chairman, who will try to put stumbling blocks in the program of the president. It is especially regrettable that the senate is Republican, since that body is charged with the ratification of treaties which require a two-thirds majority. With the presidential election coming on in 1920, the Republicans will spare for advantage in everything and keep their eyes always open to party benefit. The safest and best way is, if the treaty can be presented for ratification before the close of the present congress, to use every effort to that end, as we are sure this congress can do more for the permanent good of the world than one dominated by the Lodges, the Penroses, the Polidexters and others of that ilk.

There is a report that Gov. Stanley will offer the chairmanship of the tax commission to Auditor Greene, who will accept and then the auditorship will be given to Thomas S. Rhea, whose untiring, intelligent and earnest efforts as campaign chairman resulted in the election of Gov. Stanley to the senate. It would be a fitting tribute to a most worthy Democrat and a realization of his ambition to be auditor. If this paper has any standing in court, it urges with all its power that this program be carried out. Mr. Rhea made a splendid treasurer and is peculiarly fitted to fill out the office suggested.

After the war when carpet baggers ruled the south negroes were elected by the score to governorships, legislatures, congress and several to the senate of the United States, but until a negro was elected to the legislature in Missouri last week there had none been elected to such offices for a long time. This one was the first ever elected to the "show me" state, which further stigmatized herself by electing a Republican to the Federal Senate.

The power of the press was very negligibly shown in the recent election in Lexington. With the Herald giving neither aid nor comfort to Gov. Stanley and the Leader throwing dirt balls at him daily, he carried the town by 48 majority. This is not what it should have been, of course, but seems to be proof that the opposition of some papers is better than its support and proves the contention of "Ex-Lex" in our last issue.

The failure of re-election of Miss Jeannette Rankin to congress will not create a deep and lasting sorrow. She was distinguished as the first female congresswoman, but she did not distinguish herself in the eyes of the country. A number of women ran for congress in the states where equal suffrage prevails but every one of them lost out, though 16 were elected to the state legislatures.

The virulence of the influenza plague in New York City is shown in the fact that fully 7,290 families lost either the mother or the father or both, leaving 21,000 orphans, a large number of who will have to be cared for by the city. Truly has death rode in the air, on land and on sea during the year now drawing to a close.

At the suggestion of the Kentucky Council of Defense it is likely that business organizations and stores will voluntarily agree to a business day beginning at 8 A. M. and ending at 5 P. M. in the interest of the fuel supply. That gives a day of nine hours and ought to be sufficient for most business at least.

"The House of Quality"

When the kaiser took the alternative of abdicating or being slain by his own people, the shame, the disappointment and the humiliation that filled him is almost beyond imagination and the worst for him is that no human being sympathizes with him or feel much better towards him than to those who crucified the loving Savior. Like it was said of another, while he lived he lived in clover, and when he died he died all over, and without even the benefit of clergy. The sorrow, the deaths, the sufferings and the losses that he has brought on the earth, because of an ambition to conquer the world cannot even be estimated, and no punishment of such a brute can be adequately imposed. May he suffer the fate of Prometheus who, alive and bound, saw vultures feed on his liver, which grew for further punishment daily.

The trend of prohibition is onward and steady. At the election last week Ohio, Florida, Wyoming, Minnesota and Nevada went into the column, in 24 states dry laws are in effect and in Texas, Delaware, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts and Montana the federal amendment for nation wide prohibition has been ratified by the legislatures. As we anti-saloon men are fond of saying, the prohibition question has been practically settled and settled right.

Prayers for peace have been answered. Let us now show our appreciation of what we so much sought.

Lizards are being raised in Trinidad, British West Indies, to protect the sugar crop from froghoppers.

Unconditional surrender was what we wanted and this country usually gets what she goes after.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

R. L. Albright is up after a severe spell of "flu."

Miss Bertha Nikula left Sunday for Cincinnati to visit friends.

Judge W. M. Myers, of Hustonville, is distressingly ill of Bright's disease.

Roy Ware, in training at West Point, is here mingling with old friends.

Burdett Ramsey, of Paint Lick, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. John Bright.

Rev. R. N. Noel is spending a few days with his daughters, the Misses Noel, at Danville.

The "flu" situation is slowly on the improve, but there are many cases in the county yet.

Mr. R. A. Good, of Lexington, spent several days with old friends and relatives at McKinney.

Caldwell Coffey, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., is visiting his relative, Mrs. Kate Coffey, at McKinney.

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Brummitt and son, of Harrodsburg, were the guests of friends here Monday.

"Gets-It," a Liberty Bottle for Corns!

There's Only One Genuine "Corn-Peeler"—That's "Gets-It."

Ever peel a banana? That's the way "Gets-It" peels off corns. It's the only corn treatment that will "Gets-It" is a guarantee that you won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of a corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, causes pain. You can kick your "corns" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns.

No More Excuse for Corns or Corn-Pains Now!

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back, corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Stanford and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by The Penny Drug Store.

TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

In loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mrs. John S. Lee, who was laid to rest June 3, 1918.

In a lonely graveyard many miles away,
Lies my darling mother beneath the cold, cold clay.

She rests in peace above,
Her place on earth could never be filled—
Her life was one of love.

Dearest mother, you have left us,
We shall meet on earth no more,
Yet 'tis God that has bereft us,
All thy suffering now is o'er.

In the grave thy form so lovely,
From earthly cares was laid away,
And the home is sad and dreary
Since God called you home that day.

Here thy form by sickness wasted,
Chilled by earth's cold, withering blast,
Tenderly the Savior called you—
Welcome loved one—home at last.

Welcome to your Father's mansion
Where the flowers bloom,
There no night beyond the river,
There no death beyond the tomb.

Dearest mother we have parted
And God's angel bore you o'er
Safely over the river of Jordan,
Safe to Canaan's peaceful shore.

How our hearts with grief were breaking,
As we saw death's chilling wave
Gather thick and dark around you,
But we had no power to save.

Softly then a low voice whispered,
As an echo from the shore,
Weep no more for the departed,
For her sufferings now are o'er.

Death has opened wide its portals
To the realms of endless day
She no more shall dwell with mortals,
Her earthly cares have passed away.

But oh, beyond this shadow land,
Where all is bright and fair,
I know full well my mother's hands
Will palms of victory bear.

Where crystal streams through endless years
Flow o'er golden land
And where the old are young again
I will clasp my mother's hand.

Oh, how sweet will be that meeting
Earthly words can never declare,
We shall know the bliss of Heaven,
When we meet our mother there.

So when by and by the summons will come
That joyous message calling us home,
And happy we go to answer that call
To heaven, to mother and all.

Her daughter, Mrs. Wickliffe Caldwell, Pekin, Ill.

Let the I. J. supply you with engraved cards.

No Mystery in Meat

Some things are so simple that they have to be explained again and again. When things are obvious, people keep looking for mysteries behind them.

So it is with the packing business. The mere size of Swift & Company confuses many. Because their imaginations are not geared up to scale, they believe there must be magic in it somewhere—some weird power.

Swift & Company is just like any other manufacturing business run by human beings like yourself; it takes in raw material on the one hand and turns out a finished product on the other.

Swift & Company keeps down the "spread," or the expense absorbed between raw and finished material, to as low a figure as possible. (If it didn't it would be put out of business by others who do.)

How much Swift & Company pays for the raw material, and how much it gets for the finished product, depends upon conditions which Swift & Company does not control.

It depends entirely upon how much people want the finished product, and how much raw material there is available to make it from.

The profits of Swift & Company amount to less than one cent per pound on all meats and by-products—less than one-fourth of a cent on beef.

Swift & Company, U.S.A.
